Discussion

Who are your friends in class? In the neighborhood? What do you enjoy doing together? Do you feel alone sometimes? Perhaps, together, you could think of what you could do when you are feeling all alone.

Illustrations tell a story

The illustrations in this book depict various animals: a cat, some birds, butterflies, and an owl. Can you find them? Notice the points in the story in which they make an appearance, and who they can help.

Words of emotion

The letters in the story describe feelings: missing someone, loving someone, feeling happy...

How about making some cards with words of emotion, as well as phrases that describe these emotions, and connecting each word with the sentence describing it?

Missing someone: I wish we could see each other again

Loving someone: It feels good when we're together

Feeling happy: This tune makes me want to jump up and dance

Feeling thankful: I'm so glad we met! Thank you for coming round!

Having a party

Would you like to party like Rosalinda and Aaron? You could use the invitation they made to write an invitation of your own, prepare one of the dishes they had at their party, play some party music, and dance together.

You could even take some photos during your party, and save them in an envelope inside the book you've received.
